

A HISTORY OF THE GLENELG CONTRACT BRIDGE CLUB

COMPILED FROM AVAILABLE MINUTES 1993 - 2017
AND ORAL HISTORIES

by June & Graeme Hammond 2017

History

There is evidence of a bridge club at the Glenelg Town Hall called the Goodwill Bridge Club as early as 1952 (see appendix 1) who used to meet in the Community Room every Wednesday evening. They continued to hold their Bridge parties into the 60's raising money which was donated to various charities.

The Glenelg Contract Bridge Club Inc. was not founded until Friday, 27th February, 1970. (See appendix 2) In the early days, the club met in the Lady Mayoress' Room, in the Glenelg Town Hall, once a week, on Friday evenings. Keith Berry and Norman Newland were instrumental in founding the club and Norman Newland was elected the first President. The two men were very keen to establish clubs in many metropolitan areas throughout Adelaide and Norman Newland went on to establish the Walkerville Bridge Club as well. Helen Luxton, who still plays from time to time at the Glenelg club, was one of the founding members of the club.

She recounts a funny story told to her by Keith Berry, who had an unusual liking for drinking sea water. But he liked it fresh, so he used to take a bucket onto Glenelg Jetty to get his daily drink. One day in 1971, he went onto the jetty and leaned out to hoist up the bucket. As he did so, the instructions for and entries to SA's first congress at Glenelg which he was organising, fell out of the top pocket of his jacket into the sea below. In a panic, he ran back along the jetty to the beach, stripped to his long johns (it happened to be mid-winter) and in he went to retrieve his paperwork. He was spotted, the police were called and there was some explaining to be done.

After the Glenelg Town Hall there were several moves: first to the Rechabite Hall, Gordon Street, Glenelg in 1976, then to St Mary's Hall, part of St Mary's Primary School, High Street, Glenelg for a short time. By the 1977 the Club was in Partridge House, Partridge Street, Glenelg where it stayed for many years. The games were held in several of the rooms and it was felt that it would be better to have everyone together.

In May, 1997, the Club moved again to the Sea Rescue Squadron, with 2 sessions (Mon & Fri) still being played at Holdfast Bay Yacht Club, Barcoo Road, West Beach. In Jan 1998 these 2 sessions were moved to Flambouron Hall, Fulton Street, Glenelg North and continued to be played there for several years.

Finally, in 2006, the club was playing all sessions in the comfortable, bright room of the Sea Rescue Squadron, Barcoo Road, West Beach.

Appendix 2

GLENELG CONTRACT BRIDGE CLUB, INCORPORATED.

HISTORICAL NOTE

A meeting was arranged for Friday, 27 February, 1970, at the Glenelg Town Hall, resulting in the Club being formed. It commenced operation on the following Friday in the Community Rooms at the Town Hall.

The club continued to use the Community Rooms until 1976, when the accommodation became insufficient for the number of members. They then hired rooms at the Rechabite Hall in Gordon Street, for one night each week.

At this time, the Town Hall was undergoing reconstruction, and Glenelg Council had bought Partridge House, at 38 Partridge Street. The Town Clerk of the time, Mr R. G. Lewis, asked me (Keith Berry) for an opinion of what the Club would have to say if accommodation were to be made available at Partridge House. My answer was "I think they would be most appreciative". He then said to me, "All right, leave it to me".

On 5 February, 1977, Wally Wood and Rick Parsons looked at Partridge House. On 11 February, 1977, the club held its Annual General Meeting, and Alf Gillingham was elected President.

On Friday, 1 June 1977, the Club held its first night's bridge at Partridge House.

Keith Berry.

These notes were compiled from personal recollections and reminders from Audrey (Mrs Wally) Wood.

CHEERY PARTY WIND UP FOR BRIDGE

For the final bridge night of the year Mrs. Boath, the organiser of the Goodwill Club, which meets every Wednesday night in the community room of the Town Hall, held a very cheery party. The supper was delicious and the prizes many. Main prize winners were Mrs. Phillips, who won first prize, Mrs. Olifent second, Mrs. Dunstall third, and the hidden number was won by Mrs. Morrow. The club will reopen on January 12 at 8 p.m.

Club Formation

GLENELG CONTRACT BRIDGE CLUB, INCORPORATED. HISTORICAL NOTE

A meeting was arranged for Friday, 27 February 1970, at the Glenelg Town Hall, resulting in the club being formed. It commenced operation on the following Friday in the Community Rooms at the Town Hall.

The club continued to use the Community Rooms until 1976, when the accommodation became insufficient for the number of members. They then hired rooms at the Rechabite Hall in Gordon Street, for one night each week.

At this time the Town Hall was undergoing reconstruction, and the Glenelg Council had bought Partridge House, at 38 Partridge Street. The Town Clerk of the time, Mr R. G. Lewis, asked me (Keith Berry) for an opinion of what the club would have to say if accommodation were to be made available at Partridge House. My answer was "I think they would be most appreciative." He then said to me, "All right, leave it to me."

On 5 February, 1977 Wally Wood and Rick Parsons looked at Partridge House. On 11 February, 1977, the club held its Annual General Meeting and Alf Gillingham was elected President. On Friday, 1 June 1977 the Club held its first night's bridge at Partridge House.
